May 12, 1983

Greetings Dear Ones,

Children of the light, for indeed you are. As Jesus told His disciples, they were to be the light of the world as He was going away. They would be the light and also the salt of the earth, the flavoring. But the light must not be hidden under a bushel. It is to shine forth and more and more disclose that which is before you as you pray for discernment to separate true from false, wheat from the chaff. As the light increases, the light of God in your temple, it will enlighten you, increase in your consciousness until you become completely illumined as you ascend the stairway into the heavenly realms, into the celestial realms far beyond the surface of the planet, far beyond the astral planes.

For that which is divine and celestial cannot be ^{encompassed} (comprehended) by the finite mind. But that of the infinite is so far beyond the mortal mind of man, or his physical eyes, or his five senses, but ^{it} is an entirely different environment.

And as the Holy Spirit abides within you as you truly seek the Kingdom of God, the Kingdom of Heaven, then you are expanding in consciousness more and more. You are opening into the greater vistas of the heavenly realm. For that which is called attitude while you are in the flesh, determines your altitude, as you begin to ascend even a little for more and more will come in due time. But there must be a maturing in the spirit and in keeping all things in balance as you grow and move through the necessary experiences of earth. And as you walk with your Elder Brother, Jesus, your Redeemer, your Savior, He was given authority by the heavenly Father to take dominion over the planet, to govern it and rule it for He had passed all the tests necessary to show that He was quite ready and capable of governing.

And as you grow in the spirit, the soul of you expands and is then led by the spirit within you. Then you are experiencing moving into higher frequencies of light, experiencing the personal guidance of your Shepherd, your Lord. And this must be a constant walk with Him if you are to learn to live in the spirit and finally leave behind the flesh. For spiritual man can walk right out of the flesh and move on, even as you do in soul flights at night while the body sleeps many times. Those that are truly seeking to be faithful in that walk with God will do this. And as you experience more and more in the spirit, the body and mind out of the way for they do interfere so very much in ^{thousands} of ways daily. And while the intent and purpose may be there, still it is quite difficult to get one to concentrate upon the Lord God of Hosts.

It is difficult to get things off your mortal minds in the things of the day that tire and confuse or frustrate or concern each one. And to get several to come into attunement at one time is close to being impossible, but it does happen; it is not easy. And as soon as you become still, the body is not accustomed to it and one goes to sleep or another begins to snore or another one gets restless and fidgets. The flesh is not accustomed to the spirit and it is difficult to hold a concentration or the attention of the soul while it is in a physical body as you can usually tell if you observe a little bit. And each one, of course, working hard through the day becomes tired, but they are not accustomed to being still to know God. Some, more than others, are fast moving through the day and some do not have the balance in their endocrine glands which are some of the - at least the bridge between the material and the physical and the spiritual. And the thyroid gland, when that becomes out of balance then you have things speeded up in parts of the body. It is still not in balance and rhythm to be effective to smoothly operate in the body and mind according to the way the spirit would move it. So you get so many things out of line, out of balance, out of synchronization and were it not for the mercy of God, and the patience of God, man would never make it. But because God has patience and faithfulness and love and mercy, compassion, all these things are available to spiritual man. They are the attributes of God in man, but man has to still the flesh and the mind long enough to realize it and let it come through. And these many difficulties to truly get a body and mind still, truly still, that the spirit may operate through it, is extremely difficult. And, of course, as a vessel is used, as we channel through this vessel Saranyia, parts of the body such as the endocrine glands and a nervous system that becomes as a very sensitive antenna and finely attuned through much practice and usage for this purpose and in that higher vibration, then it is a delicate instrument, as it is used to reach through to those sitting (we hope in attention) and listening, learning, feeding on the spirit, literally, the soul within each one. That is the opportunity for the soul to be fed. But the body is so busy through the day in the mental activity going at such full force that seldom does the soul have a chance to be fed, taught and lifted up until it can finally get back into its rightful place, in spirit in the Kingdom of God. And there are not enough vessels for the Holy Spirit to move through.

Many that become instruments are limited, or they limit themselves to the lower astral and then to the psychic realm in which many can be turned from their course or their purpose. And to go straight on through to the highest of the frequencies of light that man can receive from God and His host that serve Him to prepare for this change in the planet, this becomes extremely rare for many are content to stop off at the psychic level and enter into many dangers and expose themselves and others to all kinds of entities of lower planes.

So when there is a vessel completely given over to God to use that holy temple for God's Divine Purpose then the sensitivity must become greater than ever and there must be cooperation, undergirding by those as an inner group around them, prayer and love and undergirding of that vessel. Many do not realize the extreme sensitivity which sometimes is painful to the instrument, and the varying factors^s that affect it or defeat the purpose or make it dangerous for the channel, at least uncomfortable many times. So there should be more attunement to realize to come together in a oneness, a oneness of purpose, unity of desire and purpose for the heavenly things and literally to find that way of closer and closer attunement with God for each one is accountable to God. As you learn to commune with God and walk with Him daily, receive His guidance as He sends it through the Holy Spirit living within you, it is a wonderful, beautiful network of sensitivities, attunements, communication between God and man. It is more the feeling of knowing this and becoming more and more attuned to the delicacy of it. Many nervous systems could not tolerate the shock, or sometimes pain, or dangers, so when there is one that has reached that place of functioning then all should do everything possible to pray and lift that one into the security of the heavenly realms and God using the vessel completely offered to Him in obedience and a certain sacrifice in order to do this. This has not been understood by most, but it makes a great difference. It can also affect even the greater heights and the reaching for the message that would come through to the souls.

So once in a while it is necessary to explain a little bit of that so one can be more considerate or dangerful and help in every possible way because eventually it is necessary for each one to know and realize these things as they become more and more attuned to the spiritual realm. It is a moment by moment realization and easing into, gliding into that avenue of the spirit. This is so different than going through the avenues of the earth.

As you come closer to the ending of this age, as man has known it here on the planet, you will find the nervous systems of each body will be highly intensified and will be painful and more and more difficult to tune in as they are antennas. As the acceleration is increasing so very much now, rapidly, and the vibrations moving faster and faster into higher frequencies of light and the intensity of it and yet the opposite, ~~of~~ the dark forces, trying to interfere trying to defeat the purpose of Christ, bringing in His Kingdom. Of course, it will not be defeated, but the ones in the midst may feel that they are being put through the grinder. In many ways, they are going to have to be stronger to stand up against the intensity, the increasing vibrations. Many things can be avoided as one begins to observe this and do what is possible to get out of the path of the high voltage, move along in a pace that will be bearable. Jesus said, "endure to the end." He will walk with you. He did not say it would be easy. You've heard this before, but it does not always register with you. Many things go right on by as though one hadn't heard it. So more and more each soul is going to have to take things very seriously and move and act as though they believe what they have claimed to believe. They know it is coming to pass and avoid panic, avoid any fear. God's love shall cast out fear. If you reach and open to His love and let love be in you, that will help you to find that balancing factor for balance is needed so greatly in each person in this world today. Moderation of things, not the extremes. The fast pace that is so rapidly taking ^{many} people before their time or injuring them, or causing illnesses - it does not have to be. Many still has free will choice, can ^{govern} many things about his life and can remove himself from places that would be damaging to his soul or environments that would be damaging to the soul for that soul must survive. For this, Jesus came into the world and gave His very being, His life, that you might live and your soul be preserved and enter into the higher realms of God's Kingdom to live eternally.

So one does not have the right either to commit suicide in the body, or to batter the mind, or to abuse and damage the soul. And many things of the world today do that very thing. So as you see and observe and as you mature within you, then act like you are maturing, act in wisdom, in wisdom. Too many are apathetic in this day, just settle down into an apathy and they call it trust. Trusting God is not to just sit down and wait. Trusting God is to actively go forth as He directs and ^{leads} ~~needs~~ you trusting that He will give you the strength for each day as you pray and ask Him and open up to this and He will assist you in quieting the body, quieting the mortal mind, ^{as a soul} So then you can be more active and accomplish more than ever when you are in a quiet rhythmic pace that you can consciously cope with and it is in this manner that you will begin to make progress.

loved you enough and cared enough to enter into the planes of the world and take on himself all of that which man had caused and to free and extricate man from this intricate system in which Satan tried his plan for the world when he felt himself equal to God and he tried his system. Having seen this one, now soon some of you will be trying God's plan and system. And if you cannot see that in the thousand years in which you will be given of that example, then it is hard to see how you could ever learn. But after this thousand years, with the Lord Jesus the Christ ruling in love and mercy, justice, without any deception (for Satan will be bound for that thousand years) and still at the end of that time when Satan is loosed a little season, there will still be some that will follow after him and leave God's Kingdom again. Be sure that you are not among those for woe be unto them. God has extended His mercy, His patience, His love. Unto all mankind He gives the opportunity to come into His Kingdom in love and trust and obedience to Almighty God.

So if man fails again, he has no one to blame but himself. He has been given the greatest chance, opportunity, of all opportunities upon earth in the entire galaxy. So be ever grateful to Jesus who came to be your Shepherd, redeem you, draw you out of this false and counterfeit world system to take you into the Kingdom of God, the Kingdom of Heaven which is your rightful home, your inheritance.

If only mankind could lift his eyes to the heights, look to his Lord and the expansion of all of His creation and to the great assemblies of those that are obedient serving faithfully Almighty God, ~~thousands~~ and thousands of angels in His service. Many are the celestial ships which He uses. This should not be so astounding to man for had there not been the great heavenly realities there would not have been the smaller images down the way for man to have the aircraft that you have today and even the vehicals going to the moon and the planets. They are but imitations or copies after the vagueness when man does not have full memory of the spiritual realms. But they are only a copy, a miniature of the great celestial ships of heavenly realms. And why not with all of the galaxies and galaxies, universes beyond measure, worlds without end, why should they not have transportation between them and communication with other of God's creatures. He had many flocks to tend. Why should man, in his conceit, think that he is the only one and giving himself credit for such high intelligence that he believes nothing could be beyond that. That is certainly pride and arrogance, conceit beyond measure. Vanity of vanities, all is vanity as the saying goes.

For Almighty God has a vast creation and many are those that He created to inhabit His worlds. Of what use would they be if they were all entirely empty. They go through the seasons of growth and times, coming into the ripeness, or the fertility, and times of going on out into becoming what is called as a dead planet or a dead sun at least for a great cycle. God does not waste anything.

And so these last many years, or at least one hundred years, there have been thousands of the ships around and in the vicinity of the planet earth observing, governing, helping to keep the planet in balance, stable in its orbit to keep mankind from blowing himself up in all his foolishness, just as you would watch over a child to keep him safe from the dangers. Then as the time approaches for the Lord to return to gather up those that have chosen to obey God's Plan, be obedient unto Him and love Him more than all else, then He will gather them up that where He is they may be also.

For years and decades heavenly beings have been seeking to break through into the consciousness of man with a little light penetrating that which should be opening up and begin to let it be known to them that the angelic hosts are obeying the Lord and are around the planet even now, seeking to help them, assist them to be on hand and will be with the Lord when He comes. And as He draws man up as you might say in levitation, overcoming gravity, He draws them up to meet Him in the air, what do you think He will do with them in the air? That is where man conceived the idea that one would float on a little white cloud playing a harp and so forth, childish fantasies. But the great celestial mother ships, as they are called, are almost like cities adequate for drawing many into them. And the Lord directs and leads as to where He would take them. And many are the ships that are desiring to make connection with those that have practiced the present of God, practiced hearing the still small voice within, having that inner connection in spirit which is a natural for the great spiritual realm, but it is not natural to the world in a natural man born of Satan. They are two different kingdoms, two different ways of communing. And it is not really all that difficult if one sincerely seeks the Kingdom of God, wants to obey Him. Then he will use God's method instead of the human method. He will turn within and meet his Maker, turn within himself and to the Holy Temple that he was told was within him and list to Jesus who became the Christ. And each of the children of God will become Christed as they grow and develop in the spirit and as an infant grows until he reaches manhood or womanhood, then so does the spirit of God breathed into man until he became a living soul so does that spirit develop, advance, until he reaches Christhood. Even as he has that mind that was in Christ Jesus in him when he begins to put dependence in the divine mind not in mortal mind, he has that great love that was in Christ Jesus.

So that is what man should be aiming for and realizing it. It is a reality within him to claim the promises of Jesus for he knew that man was coming some day into that Christhood. Man has been so confused that he has gone for many years thinking that "Christ" was the last name of Jesus, how foolish. He was the Christ, the King over all Kings, the Lord of earth and its new heavens round about. Jehovah God crowned Him and gave Him the authority to rule over His Kingdom. And those begotten in the image of the Father were to be raised up in like manner and had claim to their inheritance. So leave all things of the false kingdom behind. It is but a counterfeit. It was revealed unto man that the fleshly man, the natural man was born of Satan his father. And the divine spiritual man was begotten of Jehovah God and His Father that is the One with eternal life. Satan's creations cannot live forever. Only the heavenly Father's. So choose ye this day which master you shall serve. You may serve Satan and take part in his counterfeit world and have many so called pleasures. He will tempt and try to draw man into his field of operation and yet what a weak substitute for the great and mighty wonders that God Almighty has planned for His sons and daughters of His Kingdom. How could there be any hesitation to live eternally and be like Him. There is nothing greater that anyone could ever ask or dream of. And who is man that God is mindful of him, God the Father brought him forth, begotten of Himself in His image, with His potential. He will not go back on His word. But He offers. He does not impose His will upon man but offers the wide open door for him to return to God's Kingdom. That was the pivoting point - He gave him free will choice and man could choose to go either way and God knew that he would choose. He had a choice in either direction. But if he had made him as a puppet, or a robot, then there would be no integrity in man. There would be no valuable stability or honor in man if he was ^upuppet and he had to do the way he was made. That would be weaker than a man given free will choice who developed the strength and the honor and the obedience to choose his Father and follow after him and become like him.

So those of the higher heavenly realms desire to do everything possible to help lift up this fallen race. Man does not like to call himself a sinner, or weak, or lost. But the result of total disobedience to God would bring about the results that would destroy him. So all the prophets, all those that God sent forth through the centuries were serving Jesus who was Shepherd over all and desiring in every way possible to help them to see the light, turn around and return home.

As you take in all of this in your understanding, you might say, well we've heard that before; it's not new. But what are you doing each day to act as though you've heard it, to begin to live in every cell of your body and your being, to live according to that Christ in you which is growing, developing, advancing, maturing, going toward Christhood. But only if the shell of the falseness is broken and falls away anyway that you say it in the various ways of methods, of terminology, you still must deny the false self, if you would rise up and live strongly in the true God self. And that was the plan of creation and then the plan of redemption after the disobedience and the fall of man. Such love is hard to realize. God's great love for mankind that He gave His only begotten Son that obeyed Him and made the grade so to speak, made it all the way through and reached Christhood without disobeying or falling back. None other have accomplished this and that is your difference in all of the religions that you hear about and the various leaders, many.

Buddha brought forth much light, taught many things and enlightened ones. But he did not make the sacrifice to die that the whole race could be redeemed. And all of these others, Confucius, great wisdom, many of them had wonderful teachings, but it was not enough. What good is a teaching if you are going to remain dead on a dead planet. It is only the redemption to get your return to the Father's heavenly kingdom that makes it all worth while and Jesus was the only one begotten of the Father that obeyed Him and sacrificed in love to come and rescue His brothers. That is what made Him so entirely different from all of the other religionists of the planet.

This is not the time to idle away or to play games with God. It is drawing close to the end of this time, just as it did in the flood at the time of the flood. And after the one hundred twenty years of preaching and teaching and ~~learning~~ ^{alerting} and warning to people of what was to come, many laughed and ridiculed, payed no attention. Many were too busy, had too many excuses, put it off until the day came when God Himself closed and sealed the door of the Ark and no one could open it to those frantically begging from outside. They had sealed their own doom. Man probably would have been soft-hearted and possibly let some in; Noah might have. But God's wisdom was strong and knowing that the nucleus to be preserved for the next civilization could not start with the mixture of those that did not believe God or were not in a oneness with Him or in harmony with Him. Just as you could not take some from this country and take some that were communists from your enemy country, put them together and say we will have a beautiful camp with everything in oneness and one spirit. It could not be done. It would defeat the purpose. God's wisdom knew better than to mix and trust weakness, instability and all of these other things that were unlike God. For He wanted to have those that would be obedient unto Him that were made and begotten of Him in His image to be the start of the next civilization. And just as He had to cast out Lucifer from the higher heavens, He could not have the discordant note and still keep harmony in His plan for heaven.

So be sure that you are not one of those discordant ones. You have been faithfully seeking, but don't even hesitate to drop some more things by the wayside when they are not full of God's purpose. Give of yourself to Him. Give of your time to Him, for His purpose, not the world's purpose. Of course, there are still those that must labor till He comes, must work to survive. But the things that are not necessary, or essential, these are the ones you can start working on. Separate and divide, simplify your life. Do not be frantically going to and fro in a thousand different things. More and more walk with your God. And you can; this is not something that is impossible for He lives within you. Get away from the noise long enough to hear Him. When you pray to Him asking, then take time to listen. He answers. Maybe not in a way that your mind would plan it, in a way that your flesh would like it, but He answers. And He provides you with the strength, the energy for each day's work and needs. And practice receiving that within you. You are literally a broadcasting station and a receiver, a receiving station. The energies go forth as you send out from your heart, from your mind, from your aura, emanating from you. There are many messages that could be decoded. And if man takes time to pray at all, he has gotten in the habit of begging and asking God over and over and over for things that he wants. But God provides that which is needed. He didn't promise to answer the wants of man. The desires of the heart, of the spirit, that He will do. And in His wisdom He will reach out ⁱⁿ great love and justice and He will care for each one. You learn to commune with Him inside, talk to Him as a child to the Father. Then, don't get up and run away, but give time for Him to answer, to give you some inspiration.

to give you an idea, to show you, possibly show you your next step to take. He will show you the way if you will not let your glands get all in a frenzy to where they are running away with you. The endocrine glands are so very important, vital, because they are the link between the physical and the spiritual. That is why they are such a mystery to the medical profession. That is why they have never fully learned how to work with ~~the~~, what they do or do not do. The thymus affects growth, and the thyroid, if it is too little or too much, it's off balance, and then there can be emotional problems, mental problems, physical or hyperactivity. They govern so many things in the body, but they also have affect on yet the spiritual side. They affect the opening up of the centers which can cause extreme nervousness, can go in either direction. Some like to say there is no such thing as good or bad, but you still must have a balance and a polarization, things coming into place and in timing.

So you will in time learn more about the ductless glands. And as you commune with the Lord, sit still and turn within, there are many things that He can show you about this. They will have an effect when you finally leave the physical body and are changed in a twinkling of an eye, no longer corrupt, vulnerable and you will be like the Master Jesus.

So find more and more time to read your Holy Writings, not only to read, but in prayer asking the Holy Spirit to guide your understanding, to lead you into understanding of what you read. You will see it in a new light. Let your prayer be more and more for others, intercessory prayer. It's very vital and meaningful. Pray one for another, coming into His courts with praise and thanksgiving, with love in your heart for your God. And approach Him in humility, submitting yourself before Him. It does not have to be with excitement, with loudness. But you then lend yourself as a vessel for Him to pour more light, more love, more healing through as you open up to Him and open to another for which you have compassion. That is the reason for this, just as He asked His disciples to pray with Him in His greatest hour in the Garden of Gethsemane. And, of course, they went to sleep. But He made it in love and the openness of those caring and praying for Him that God could flow through them as they opened up in prayer. God could use them to flow through and reach to Him. And the undergirding which is seldom realized by so many, but it is needed.

So that is the way that God moved through. Of course, He moved through and performed His will through Jesus. But at that time when He was making His greatest decision of all time and asking that if it be the Father's Will please remove the cup from Him, but nevertheless He was yielding to God's plan and said, "nevertheless Thy will be done." He would submit to it. He was not fearing the physical death on the cross, as He was trembling in the awesome experience of having to go down into the lower regions and literally was giving Himself to go all the way and die a spiritual death that He might save mankind.

Now man does not have to die in the spiritual death, for it was done for him and yet he was resurrected and came back victorious. That gave the overcoming power to all those that would believe Him and accept it as victory that they too might live and might use that overcoming power, not only at the time of the future resurrection, but every day in every situation to claim that power and energy of His victory to come up over every circumstance, everything that man had to meet, for healing, for all the things. Anytime there is a need one should call upon His overcoming, victorious power that was that great resurrection. And that should lift one out of depression, lift one out of sickness, lift one over the obstacles. Keep on top of the circumstances and not become victim to the circumstances. The resurrection power of Jesus is the greatest power there has ever been upon the earth. He was victorious and He praised the Father, thanked Him and the Father gave Him the authority to be King, Lord, ruler over the earth and the heavens around it. They would be made new. It's the closing days of actually getting ride of the false kingdom. By 2,000 His Kingdom will be manifesting on the earth. So there is quite a bit to be done in the meantime - the seven years of tribulation worse than the world has ever known. And those that love God and love Jesus and believe on His giving of His life and that sacrifice and His resurrection, then they will be drawn up to meet Him and to be apart from that while the tribulation goes on on the ground level in those seven years. Then after that the cleansing and the purging and the cleansing, purifying of the earth, and the changes made so that it will be like new, new heavens around it, all of that, the lower astral realms, all will be cleared out, cleansed, purified, God's Kingdom, cleaning territory. But only those who believe in Him and His Plan and are willing to obey Him, not going in any other direction - for Satan will be bound during that time. Think how wonderful it will be not to have deception, lies, temptations, any of the false things, wars, crime, poverty, hospitals, illness, prisons. All will be banished. Jesus will be ruling in divine love, all in obedience and alignment for Jehovah's plan. A wonderful, wonderful and glorious kingdom. You will be the citizens of it as long as you stay true to His Plan and do not let anything defeat that purpose, no matter who it is or where or what. Let nothing keep you from moving on into the Kingdom of God. Nothing on this earth is worth it. Go, even if you go alone, go, obey Him, follow your Shepherd. That is again why He said, "be not unequally yoked." Whoever you are marrying, or companionship, or anything else let it be those going in the same direction. Let it be those that love their Lord and not pulling back a different way, but go in the same purpose, the same foundation.

That is why the celestial ships are around your planet. Yes, there could be some that are counterfeit along with Satan's way, but when you are focused on God and those things of His and the angels of heaven, those are the ones you will see and know about and you will not have any connection with anything else counterfeit. So be true to your Lord and rejoice that His coming is near. And, of course, it will seem bad as the darkness covers some of the other things, but remember the earth itself is going through travail. And it will be as the labor pains come before the birth of a child, before the birth of the new world. It is already in process and it will seem difficult. The Lord will hold those up that follow Him believing. And never turn your back. It is not long to go to the end of the century and much has to be done in that time and you are not to be here during the tribulation. There are those that teach that, but Jesus did not teach that. Read His words carefully. He said, those who believed on Him and were seeking the Kingdom of Heaven and obeying the Father would be lifted up apart from that just as you would evacuate those from where there is danger, a flood or a hurricane. You will be evacuated. Listen carefully and you be attuned and the very colors in the aura of you show the light and that to which you will be attuned and you will be lifted up in the air to meet Him and into the celestial ships, come back with Him after the tribulation when He sets foot upon the earth and prepares to rule His Kingdom. It will have been cleansed and changed.

So it will all happen very quickly; be ready. Begin to let go many of the unnecessary things that might tie you down, responsibilities that were not needed to be, simplified, for you cannot take anything with you. But when you have given of yourself and your heart and your tithe and the many things that you have given unto the Lord in His name and to His glory then you will be storing up treasures in heaven and you will be building your mansion in which to live in the heavenly realms - far superior to anything you could own in this world.

Trust Him in His wisdom and even though you cannot fathom all the details, obey Him, be humble, love Him with all of your heart and love others as your divine self ready to follow. You shall be blest and be called forth, so listen. Sometimes when you hear the high pitched tone in your ear that is already taking place for a number of years from the ships - those to whom they are attuned or to let them know that they are near at hand or aware of what is going on. But most of all be ready to hear your Lord for as He is the Shepherd, the sheep shall know their Master's voice and He shall know them.

So do not let your minds, or emotions, be filled with fear or confusion or panic or any of these things. Trust in Him and He will care for you. He will find a way to feed you the spiritual food. Many are so alarmed about trying to store up so much food. If one feels called within them and urged to keep some on hand then let them do what they are called to do. But many others do not have this calling and no matter what it is it will only delay for a time. For either way, if one is called into the heavenly realms he will have no need of it. If they are still on the ground level and there are nuclear wars or bombs they will all be contaminated. There is no way that this world in its pattern of life as Satan has it it will not win over God's Plan. And at best it could only last for a time. So again, if an individual feels prompted to keep some on hand then let them go ahead. But then what happens when the electricity goes off, no freezers, no refrigeration. Canned goods hidden away will be contaminated. The human cannot win in its struggle. It is only the soul that follows God's Plan. That's why those that believe Him will be lifted up beyond the tribulation and God will provide in His spiritual realm for that which the soul needs in spirit. Is that ~~no~~ simple. He certainly provided for the children of Israel when He brought them out of bondage and they went through the forty years in the wilderness, manna from heaven, led by the cloud by day and the pillar of fire by night, simple again. The heavenly celestial ship led the way, fed them when they needed the food and were told not to keep it over the next day, but to trust and they would have a new supply the next day.

So many of the heavenly ships have been all through the ages as ^{an}ouncing the Savior's birth, as they saw the Star of Bethlehem, the great light as a ship, filled with angels singing and rejoicing. Shepherds heard them and they hovered over the place where the infant was born. ~~Later~~, as a ship came, Moses was told to go to the top of the mountain and wait, wait upon the Lord and he received a stone of the Ten Commandments, written in great fire as by lightning. The celestial ship, high above - which later took his body with them and Joshua - took the children of Israel on into the Promised Land. And as Jesus went up into the cloud and vanished the great ship awaiting the Master of all and the angels informing the disciples, "even as you see Him go, so in like manner shall He return to call out His own."

The Holy Writings are so simple ^{under} and read by the soul in the spirit. It is only when the mortal mind begins to try to figure out and to analyze in all the ways of the mental that it becomes confused. Jesus gave all His teachings in simplicity using parallels of things on the earth that could help them to see by seeing a parallel of something on earth and ^{they} he could understand a little more some of the higher laws that were being shown. So in patience, in trust and love, in quietness, in confidence, shall come your strength as your Holy Writings give you. So live according to these and learn to find more time to commune with God. You do not have to call Him in any special kind or method of meditation. Just talk to your Father in heaven and to your Elder Brother, Jesus, the Shepherd of the flock that He is coming to receive. The great divine love shall encompass all and that is the power that shall lift. The more you love God with all your heart, mind and soul and others - your neighbors as yourself. Your neighbors are really the flock following Jesus - those that are going in the same direction and are a part of His body, His Church and you will become more and more like Him as you walk and talk with Him. That is what He came to earth to do, to redeem you, to save your souls from death, to have the companionship with you all praising the Father, giving unto Him the glory. Before long you will have other sightings here of ships in this area too. It is more and more over the world, but in this country many sightings in the southwest and eventually there will be more landings. And those that are attuned to them have no fear, know that God is bringing it about. They will have more experiences with ^{them} ~~him~~, then they can be trusted. For man is so full of fear and wars and anything he sees coming out of the skies he either wants to shoot it himself, or he is fearful that they are coming to get him. He has forgotten the meaning of love and peace ^{with} ~~and~~ Jesus the Christ.

Those ^{also} ~~that~~ are coming to help and serve God are coming in love, divine love, desiring to do what they can in preparation for they will come with Jesus as He said that He would come with great hosts, not armies, but hosts, multitudes of those coming with Him in obedience to the Father's plans. So be thankful, learn to be calm. And that is hard to do when you are filled and surrounded by noise. But you will draw apart. So this concludes your lesson. You could only take so much at a time and retain it. We do give you our blessings in God's name for He is great and mighty and loves all of His creation. Selah

So be it dear ones. Aleph also stands by in love and blessings for more and more are the heavenly fleets drawing near in readiness when Jesus the Great Commander in Chief gives the word, all will move into action. So get more of your things in readiness for whatever you would do toward closing out. This does not mean a day or two, but it is soon. No one knows the exact day and hour that the Lord will come. He has given the signs and the signals and they are all in order. Most of the prophecies have already been fulfilled for those that will be before His coming. So do not be concerned about the exact time, but be ready when you know it is soon. Turn loose the dependence of things upon the earth. Do not cling, or lean or put all of your dependence on things or people. He only is to be completely trusted. But He has made all available to all those that seek His Name. Many are having soul flights at night and being taught many things. Seldom do they remember when they return. Some do, but it is not necessary for when your soul leaves the body it is going to be the soul and that which it knows that will remain with you.

My children, in love do I walk with you. Did I not promise that I would never forsake you. Obey the Father in heaven for His wisdom is great and He will care for all. It is drawing close to the end of time as you know it and in this world as you know it, but be not saddened by this for it must be in order to go on into the higher realms of heaven. Did I not say long ago, "Seek ye first the Kingdom of Heaven, the Kingdom of God within you and all else shall be provided. Let your temple be filled with the words of the Holy Scriptures and let the spirit within you lead and guide you and teach you all things. Was not this a promise that the Holy Spirit would come and bring things to remembrance, teach you all things, walk with you unto the end and I walk beside you, never fear. Be quiet within your soul, learn to quiet your mortal mind and your fleshly bodies that they not be interference to the progress of the soul. Take authority in the spirit as I have shown you before. Let the spirit rule within you, grow in strength, in love, practice obedience unto the Heavenly Father. Let the oil be in your lamps. Do not delay for when the time comes, just as in the parable of long ago, there will be no time then to rush out to get it. Now is the time to be filling your soul with the words given by God throughout the centuries. Let the Holy Spirit that is abiding within you lead you and teach you and ^{guide} ~~bind~~ you. But you be obedient unto God the Father, with no excuses. I walk with you through the meadows, and the cool waters, through the valley of the shadow of death in all areas of your life, for love is stronger than anything that can come against it and ^{believe} ~~lead~~ my children in love, give up your being unto God, to Him ^{as} ~~give~~ the glory. Bless you dear ones, I will never leave you or forsake you.
